ABSTRACT

Three hundred and seventy-seven research papers by graduates and undergraduates are listed in this bibliography, which both teachers and researchers are likely to find useful. All the papers deal with some aspect of Louisiana, but many contain implications and information of quite general application, such as "The Relationship of Socioeconomic Status and Musical Ability" (No. 231) and "A Study of the Use of Sociograms to Help the Unaccepted Child" (No.27). Many items of Louisiana history are included, as well as studies done in particular school systems in Louisiana and various papers on Louisiana geography, demography, etc. Undergraduate papers are included only if they present findings that are otherwise unavailable. The items are listed by item number, and include author, title of paper, and year. An index gives access by author, title, subject, and course number. A microfilm copy of each paper is retained by item number at the Russell Library, Northwestern State University. (JLB)

THE LOUISIANA STUDIES INSTITUTE

The Louisiana Studies Institute was organized at Northwestern State University, Natchitoches, Louisiana, in 1961. Its principal objectives are the encouragement of original research and publication of studies in various fields which contribute to a greater knowledge and understanding of Louisiana and its regional setting. Its principal activities include the publication of the LSI Monograph Series as well as the quarterly journal, Louisiana Studies. Both publications are interdisciplinary in scope and regional in emphasis, but their content is not restricted except at the discretion of the Executive Board.

The Executive Board

Ezra Adams, Director and Managing Editor

Dr. Ray Baumgardner	Dr. William Davis	Dr. Donald Rawson

Editor's Note

The attention of our readers is called to the fact that, while there is an inconsistency in this Monograph regarding the name of Northwestern, there is a simple explanation. The name of the institute was changed by the State Legislature in the summer of 1970, from Northwestern State College of Louisiana to Northwestern State University of Louisiana.

PREFACE

The results of the research of Northwestern State University graduate and undergraduate students are represented in the following list. Most of the papers by graduate students which appear in the list were prepared to fulfill the requirements for the master's degree. Only those undergraduate papers which present findings not otherwise available have been included in the list. All the papers deal with some aspect of Louisiana.

The original manuscripts of these research papers are preserved in the archives division of the Louisiana Room of Russell Library, Northwestern State University. Each paper has been assigned an item number. The main body of this list is arranged by these item numbers. The author, title, subject, and course number index, which follows the main list, make reference to these item numbers.

All of these research papers were microfilmed in numerical sequence by the assigned item numbers. In order to use these microfilm reels, reference must be made to the item numbers shown on this list.

Under ordinary circumstances, the microfilm copies and not the original manuscript must be used. Arrangements for consulting the original manuscripts can, however, be made.

Although this Bibliography of Northwestern State University Research Papers Relating to Louisiana, 1957-1969, is in some sense a companion volume to Master's Theses Completed at Northwestern State College of Louisiana, 1957-1968 (Louisiana Studies Institute, Monograph Series No. 2), it is not meant to include all of the research reports submitted from 1957 through 1969 as a part of the master's degree program. Only those dealing with Louisiana are listed here; information regarding all others must be obtained from the appropriate heads of departments.

It has been the policy of Russell Library to place cards for master's theses in the card catalog, but the master's research papers have not, as a rule, been included. The following list will serve to make available to the general public for the first time the findings reported in those master's research papers which deal with some aspect of Louisiana.
